

CATTLE

Baby Thames (a.k.a. Baby T)

Birthday: December 26, 2023

Breed: Texas Longhorn steer

Coloring: White and red

Favorite Thing: Neck scratches

Best Friend: YOU!

Baby T was actually a stillborn calf. A local vet, Dr. Thames, performed a procedure called the Madigan Squeeze to save his life. Unfortunately, the mother cow already thought she had lost her baby, so Baby T had to be bottle raised. He traveled to the Greenway in the back of a Honda Accord and has been the happiest boy ever since. Give him a hearty scratch under the chin and you will quickly become his new favorite person, but watch out for the horns his breed was named for - he is still growing into them!

Winki Dink (a.k.a. Clifford)

Birthday: May 5, 2021

Breed: Scottish Highland steer

Coloring: Red

Favorite Thing: Swimming

Best Friend: Baby T

Scottish Highland cattle are the oldest registered breed of cattle in the world, first recorded in the Outer Hebrides in the 6th Century. A hardy breed that can withstand mountain winters, Highlands have distinctive horns and long, wavy, wooly coats. They are known for their fantastic temperaments and are very docile animals.

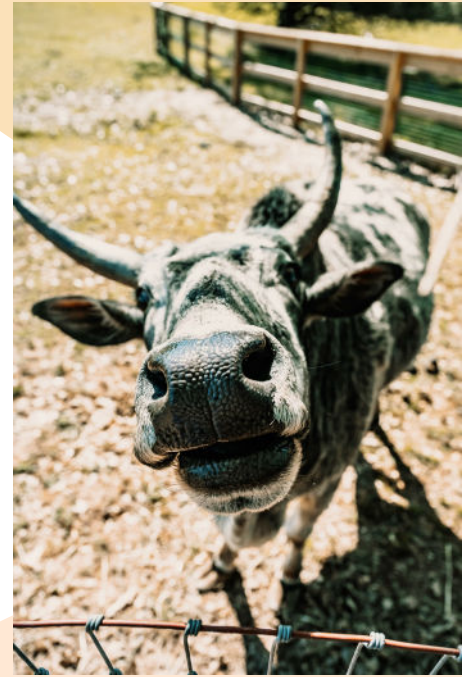

Like all Highland cattle, Winki Dink, has long fringed hair, known as a dossan, covering his eyes. Next time you need inspiration for the perfect haircut with bangs, take a photo of Winki Dink with you!

Romeo

Birthday: 2010

Breed: Miniature Zebu steer

Coloring: Gray

Favorite Food: Cheerios

Best Friend: Dorothy (the goat)

Miniature Zebu cattle are the world's smallest breed of cattle. They are native to India, Africa and Southeast Asia. The word "Zebu" is derived from the Tibetan word "ceba," which means "hump." Zebu have a hump on their back from birth, and at maturity will weight between 200 and 600 pounds.

Romeo is one of the original animals in the Greenway's petting zoo and lives in the barnyard with the pigs and goats. He loves Shakespeare and would love to hear your favorite lines from Romeo and Juliet!

Wish

Birthday: February 18, 2020
Breed: Angus/Holstein Cross
Coloring: All black
Favorite Food: Banana
Best Friend: Clarabelle

Wish was born at the Anne Springs Close Greenway to her mom, Annabelle. Annabelle passed away in September 2020, leaving Wish an orphan. Wish grew up with human best friends and horses in the Greenway's Dairy Barn pastures, and has been thriving ever since.

As a tenderhearted cow, Wish helped raise another orphaned bottle calf who lived at the Greenway, named Billy (in the photo on the left). Wish moved from the Dairy Barn Entrance to the Children's Farm in April 2024. She enjoys making new friends, both four-legged and human, and she cannot wait to meet you!

Clarabelle

Birthday: April 18, 2021

Breed: Holstein

Coloring: Black and white

Favorite Food: Watermelon

Best Friend: Wish

Holstein are the most common breed of dairy cow in the world. They are also famous for their gentle, friendly demeanor, making them great companions on farms.

Clarabelle came to live at Anne Springs Close Greenway with Wish and Billy in 2022. She grew quickly in the pasture at the Dairy Barn entrance before moving to the Crandall Bowles Children's Farm in April 2024. She loves an afternoon nap in the sun after a morning of grazing.
