Mary and Moses are guardian animals for the Children's Farm. They are siblings and have lived on a farm from the time they were born, protecting chickens, goats, sheep and other animals they lived with. They moved to the Greenway in 2023, and now, they guard and frolic with the alpacas every day.

While all animals on the Children's Farm are here to help us learn about sustainable farming, many animals can perform that job while maintaining a relationship with people; however, petting a livestock guardian animal can interfere with its ability to perform its guard duties effectively. Our guardian dogs have to keep the strongest relationship with their herd, not people. Thank you for keeping your distance.

LLAMA

Llary

Birthday: August 1, 2022

Breed: Llama

Coloring: Brown with one white leg

Favorite Thing: Staring at visitors

Best Friend: Spot

Llary is a guardian animal for the alpacas. He likes to hang out on the side of the alpaca enclosure, near the gate, or he will position himself in front of any perceived danger. Sometimes, you will see Llary patrolling the pasture; however, most of the time he enjoys lounging in the grass, pretending to be an alpaca himself.
