GARTH

BIRTHDAY: 2016

BREED: Pot belly barrow

COLORING: Black

FAVORITE THING: Cheerios

BEST FRIEND: Romeo the Zebu steer

FUN FACT: Garth lives with the goats in the barnyard pasture; he was raised on this farm since he was a baby. He is named after Garth Brooks because when he gets excited, it sounds like he is singing!

Arnold, Rip and June are pot belly pigs who were born on the Children's Farm in spring 2024.

COLORING: Pink with black markings

FUN FACT: Arnold is a little guy but he doesn't let that stop him from growing fat cheeks and representing his breed with a big, round belly. When Arnold is having a snack or a meal, he sprints back and forth between the water and the food - he knows the importance of good hydration!

COLORING: All black

FUN FACT: Rip is a gentle soul. He is still learning to be brave for belly rubs, but once he is your friend, you will have a friend for life!

RIP

COLORING: Black with a pink nose and feet and a white spot on her forehead

FUN FACT: June got her name because she is the junior spitting image of her dad. June is the queen of the pig enclosure and is the first one up to the gate for attention. She doesn't let anyone push her around when it's time to eat or get a belly rub!
